Disciplinary Procedures

Students at the International Travel College of New Zealand are expected to behave responsibly and accept the discipline and authority of the College. We expect students to behave with courtesy and respect towards each other, towards members of the College staff, and towards visiting guest speakers and others. This policy extends to student's interactions with others when engaged in field visits related to their course of study.

The College is a place of respectful safety for all its staff and students. Use of inappropriate language, damage or destruction of property, cultural insensitivity or lack of respect for the tutors and staff are regarded as serious issues and will be dealt with as they arise. All such issues are directed to the Chief Executive who may suspend the student pending investigation.

Section 224 (12) of the Education Act allows powers to the management of a tertiary education institution to refuse or cancel an enrolment on the ground that the person has been guilty of misconduct or breach of discipline.

Matters leading to disciplinary procedures include breaches of the rules regarding use of drugs/alcohol, lack of adherence to Computer Lab Laws, breaches of assessment rules, and the use of violence or abusive language or behaviour towards College staff or fellow students.

The Disciplinary Procedure is:

1. A first verbal warning is issued in cases of inappropriate behaviour, misconduct or breaches of college protocol as outlined in this handbook. The verbal warning is documented by the tutor or appropriate staff member and kept on the student's file.
2. A second verbal warning is issued for offences where a student has previously been warned verbally, and is documented by the tutor and/or Head of Academic Services.
3. A written (final) warning is issued in cases of persistent inappropriate behaviour where the student has been warned verbally twice for breaches of policies and procedures or misconduct.
4. In the case of serious misconduct where instant dismissal is not warranted but no further warnings will be issued, a written (final) warning may be issued. All written warnings shall be fully documented and placed on the student's file.

5. Dismissal may follow if a student fails to comply with any written warning.
6. Serious misconduct including wilful abuse of students, staff or property; theft; being under the influence of or in the possession of alcohol or illegal drugs; or bringing the College into disrepute, may result in instant dismissal without notice.

Students are advised that dismissal/dis-enrolment from their course of study may have implications for their entitlement to student loans/allowances and/or continued Student Visa eligibility. No refunds of fees paid are made in the event of any dis-enrolment as a result of disciplinary procedures.

Summary Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students

Introduction

When students come to study in New Zealand, education providers have an important responsibility to ensure that those students are well informed, safe and properly cared for.

To support this, the New Zealand government has developed the Education (Pastoral Care of International Students) Code of Practice 2016. NZQA is a government organisation which manages the quality of New Zealand qualifications, and also acts as the Administrator of the Code.

What is the Code?

The Code of Practice prescribes the required outcomes education providers and their agents need to deliver for their international students. It clearly outlines the full legal requirements that education providers enrolling international students must abide by.

The Code of Practice does not apply to concerns about academic standards.

Who does the Code apply to?

The Code applies to all education providers in New Zealand with international students enrolled. The Code is mandatory to these providers and must be signed by them.

What is an “international student”?

An “international student” is a foreign student studying in New Zealand.

How can I get a copy of the Code?

The code is available online from <http://www.nzqa.govt.nz>. The code is available in other languages and you are encouraged to read the code.

Which education providers are signatories to the Code of Practice?

NZQA maintains a list of all education providers that are approved signatories to the Code of Practice.

What to do if you have a complaint?

When you come to New Zealand as an international student, you can expect to receive a high standard of education, and to feel safe and well cared for while you live and study here.

If you have a complaint, it is important that you go through the right steps.

Here is what you need to do.

Ask your education provider to resolve your complaint

Your education provider is your first point of contact for any complaint you have, including any complaint about the agents your provider uses.

They must have a complaints process in place for you to go through, and they must tell you what that process is. Follow that process to see if your complaint can be resolved by your provider.

If your complaint is not resolved – contact NZQA

If your education provider has not resolved your complaint, and you still wish to have it resolved, then you can contact NZQA. NZQA is a government organisation. They can provide an independent assessment of your complaint and will either investigate your concerns or advise you what you can do next.

You can submit your complaint query on the NZQA website, or send an email to qadrisk@nzqa.govt.nz

If you need more information on the complaints process, contact NZQA on 0800 697 296.

Or – if it is a financial dispute – you can contact iStudent Complaints iStudent Complaints is available to help you resolve financial or contractual disputes with your education provider. There is no cost to you for this service. iStudent Complaints is an independent service with experience in helping people to resolve disputes. You can contact iStudent Complaints on 0800 00 66 75.

New Zealand's quality standards

All international students enrolled with a New Zealand education provider are covered by the New Zealand Government's Education (Pastoral Care of International Students) Code of Practice.

This is legislation that outlines the level of care that education providers, and their agents, must provide to international students while they live and study in New Zealand.

The education system is regulated with strong quality assurance systems across the board.

In general, as an international student you can expect that:

- the quality of teaching and learning you receive will meet high educational standards
- the marketing and promotion information you receive before you enrol is clear, complete and accurate so you can make a well-informed decision about whether an education provider is the right choice for you
- education providers' agents give you reliable information and act with integrity and professionalism
- you will receive enough information and support to help you with your enrolment, including understanding the legal obligations you have, and that you will receive all the proper documentation
- you are welcomed and have enough information, guidance and support to help you settle into your new life in New Zealand
- your study environment is safe, and that you have a safe place to live
